

Land We Live On: Traditional Stanley Park Tour

Stanley Park has long been viewed as the jewel of Vancouver. It has a rich history, used by Indigenous People for thousands of years before being designated a public park, and is located on the traditional territory of Coast Salish First Nations.

We are pleased to welcome Dallas Guss, a member of the Squamish Nation, as he leads us on a traditional walking tour.

On this walking tour:

- Visit locations of traditional significance
- Learn about the rich, Indigenous history attached to the park
- Gain a new appreciation and deeper understanding of the history of Stanley Park

We will meet in front of the Vancouver Aquarium at 9:50am, at the whale sculpture: Chief of the Undersea

For more information and to register contact:

Front Desk, office@impactnorthshore.ca or 604-988-2931

Workshop Highlights

Saturday, July 27
10:00 am – 12:00 pm

A unique opportunity to explore the traditional and rich history of Stanley Park. Gain better understanding about First Nations history. Participate in active learning during question and answer time.

Details:

This workshop will be presented in English.

This workshop is open to newcomers and immigrants.

In-person, Stanley Park
Tour will begin in front of the Vancouver Aquarium.

Event will be held rain or shine. Please dress for the weather, including good walking shoes.

Participants are responsible for getting themselves to and from the event.

To participate in this workshop, you must be registered as a client with Impact North Shore.

This program is government funded and free of charge.

Funded by:

Financé par :

Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada

Immigration, Réfugiés
et Citoyenneté Canada